

SALMAGUNDE.

R. P. Hamill, of Wells, is in town to-day.

Governor Stevenson and wife went to Chicago on the special delegate train.

E. M. Baum came up from Palisade last evening and returned this morning.

The doctors now have strong hopes of General Sherman's ultimate recovery.

Dr. J. J. Meigs returned this morning from an extended tour of the Eastern States.

Go to the Art Gallery and examine specimens of the work turned out by Risenberg & Dowe.

Lieutenant-Governor Davis now holds the reins of State, Governor Stevenson having gone to Chicago.

The California delegation is enthusiastic for the nomination of James G. Blaine; so are the Democrats.

Thomas Short, of Ruby Valley, came down from Halleck this morning and remained in town during the day.

F. W. Love, late of Taylor, White Pine county, has arrived and will take up his residence here permanently.

The ice cream festival at Freeman Hall last night was pretty well patronized, the receipts being something over $25.

Alf. Obartz, the well known shorthand reporter, accompanied the Republican delegates to Chicago to report for the Enterprise.

Mr. and Mr. C. E. Mayer will accept our thanks for a cordial invitation to attend the Fourth of July celebration at Fort Halleck.

The lady managers of the ice cream festival will accept the thanks of the Independent force for a liberal supply of cake and ice cream.

First Mamma—I see you have got your boys some pretty plaid suits.

Second Mamma—Yes; that's the only way I can keep them in check.

John T. Baker, the celebrated interviewer of the "ghost of Cave Creek," spent yesterday in town and left last evening on his return to Ruby Valley.

The San Francisco Evening Post has reduced its price to two cents a copy. The low prices of the east are gradually finding their way to the Pacific Coast.

There is not the least doubt in the minds of well informed Nevadans, of the election of Judge Sewell to the Supreme Bench this Fall. There is no show for Murphy.

We regret that the picture of President Cleveland, published yesterday, is not a good one as the electrotype is imperfect. The picture of Allen G. Thurman, published to-day, is some better.

Senator Cullom, of Illinois, is carefully cultivating a tender Presidential boom, but it is not probable that the California delegation will waste much of their 212 cases of wine in irrigating it.

Do not take quinine for malarial disorder. Ayer's Ague Cure contains none, nor any other injurious ingredient. This preparation, if taken strictly in accordance with directions, is warranted to cure all malarial diseases.

Alas—By the way, the first so-called "kangaroo ticket" ever nominated in this country was elected. And it reformed the tariff, too. The Democratic ticket of 1884 was also called a "kangaroo ticket," but it got there just the same.

The life-giving properties of Ayer's Sarsaparilla have established its well-earned reputation, and made it the most effectual and popular blood purifier of the day. For all diseases of the stomach, liver, and kidneys, this remedy has no equal. Price $1.

A correspondent of the New York Sun says: "If the Republican party will put on a clean shirt, and bury the bloody one they have been waving so long, it will be as impossible to elect Cleveland as for a gnat to hatch a goose egg in a snow bank."

The many friends of Mrs. James W. Smith, nee Miss Kate Dorsey, will regret to learn of the death of her only child which occurred at Denver, Col. to-day. The sympathies of the community are extended to the bereaved parents in their great affliction.

The attention of the dancing public is directed to the announcement, elsewhere in this issue, of a grand Fourth of July Ball to be given at Wells on the evening of our National Birthday. Everything will be done to make it pleasant for those who attend.

The Examiner says the train which left San Francisco with the California delegation was the finest that ever palled out of that city. It was composed of a baggage car, (containing 212 cases of California sparkling champagne,) a kitchen car, a dining car and eight Pullman Sleepers.

Index-Union:—After Bob Ingersoll introduces the name of Gresham at the Chicago Convention he will be in a curious fix about stumping the country for a nominee that will be the exact opposite in every particular of his favorite. Not only Ingersoll himself but the State of Illinois will be very much soured.

Vagrant—"Beg parding, mum, but could ye have the kindness to lend me a box of sardines to open with this can-opener?"

Mrs. Outcake—"Sorry I can't, poor fellow; but here's a dipper of water and a tract. I kinder hate to send the poor away empty-handed."

Hon. M. M. Este, dressed in a suit of imported goods, said to the people of Reno: "We will nominate and elect a President who believes in American industry thriving as against all foreign competition." Had Mr. Este been clothed in garments which were the product of American labor he would have appeared to better advantage.

It seems difficult to please some people. A Republican contemporary abuses the two Democrats who objected to giving Sheridan the rank of General, and in the next breath berates all the other Democrats who favored the proposition as insincere demagogues. The tight squeeze a rich man has getting in to Heaven is not a circumstance to the job a Congressman has in pleasing a hide-bound organ of the opposition.

We acknowledge the receipt of a copy of Senator Stewart's speech in favor of an amendment to the Constitution curtailing the veto power of the President. The proposition is to so amend the Constitution that only a majority of Congress shall be required to pass a bill over the President's veto, instead of a two-thirds vote as is now required. Should this measure be incorporated into the Constitution of the United States the veto power, which is intended as a safe-guard to the people, would be totally destroyed. We do not favor such a proposition.

Short Cattle Range.

O. B. Leddick, of Lamolille, was in town last night and from him we learn that a number of the stockmen in that and neighboring valleys have been compelled, on account of the short range, to drive their cattle north into Idaho. The public lands, which are worthless except for stock range, have been grazed for years and the consequence is that they have been used to such an extent as to become practically valueless even for pasture, and the result is that stockmen were compelled to move their herds in order to save them; and the public lands have therefore become valueless for any purpose. All lands in that district which can be irrigated and therefore utilized either for cultivation or for grass lands are taken up, and the remainder has become worthless even as grazing lands, hence the necessity of moving cattle to a range that will afford sufficient pasturage to sustain them.

There is a vast amount of land in Nevada, owned by the Government and the Railroad Company, which in its present condition is valueless, but which could be made fertile, and hence subject to entry and cultivation, if some means could be devised by which these now desert lands could be supplied with water, and we believe that a large portion of them can be reclaimed by a system of irrigation brought about by means of artesian wells. The experiment is well worth a trial and we believe that a fair test is all that is necessary to prove the feasibility of the project. Some means will have to be adopted to reclaim these lands if they ever become valuable as a part of the public domain.

Will Surely Win.

A Harrisburg, Pa., dispatch of the 11th instant says:

Senator Hearst of California, Senator Berry of Arkansas and ex Congressman Morrison of Illinois spent several hours in this city to-day. In conversation with a reporter Morrison said:

"The delegates at St. Louis have nominated a ticket which will surely win. I am not of a sanguine disposition and do not often predict the result of an election five months in advance, but I feel confident that the Democrats will carry the approaching Presidential election. I do not hesitate to answer your question as I do."

During his remarks Morrison looked appealingly to Senators Hearst and Berry, and they bowed their heads in approval.

Senator Hearst added: "I think you make a safe assertion, sir."

Dentistry.

Dr. A. Havenson, the celebrated Australian Dentist and Herbest, has arrived and will remain a few days only. Those who desire his services will please call on him at the Gem Hotel. The Doctor understands the medicinal qualities of herbs, besides being a practical dentist, and treats many diseases successfully. He is highly recommended by the press.

W. O. T. U.

Miss C. N. Barnett,

Lecturer and Organizer for the W. O. T. U., of Ohio, will deliver a lecture at the church on Wednesday evening, June 13th. Miss Barnett is endorsed by press and pulpit throughout the east. The "Temperance Advocate," of Sharon, Pa., says: "Her lectures are characterized throughout by great earnestness and entire freedom from invective. She has done much towards awakening the people to the necessity of doing more direct work." Numerous testimonials to the efficiency of her work might be given but space forbids. The public is cordially invited to give her a hearing.

A Business Proposition.

Those who design taking a trip, either on business or for pleasure, as well as those who remain at home, will do well to provide against misfortune by securing an Accident Policy in the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company. M. H. Miller will issue a policy for $12 50 which is good for a year, and in case of accident the holder will receive $12 50 a week during disability, and should death occur the heirs of the deceased would receive $2,500 from the Company. Policies issued for any time under a year, and for any amount under $10,000.

Humboldt House.

Having resumed the management of this popular Hotel, I desire to inform my old customers and the public generally that good accommodations at reasonable prices will be maintained.
